DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

1. Claims 1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipate by Trane (USPN 6,219,227).

With respect to claim 1, Trane discloses a hand held personal digital assistant including information storage means, display mean (fig1: element 14) in-built printer means (Element 18), control means (element 24) allowing a user to selectively retrieve and display information for the storage means on the display means and to print the information using the printer means (element 18) and means allowing a user to enter and store new information in the information storage means.

With respect to claim 4, Trane discloses the printer means includes a supply media (element 20) disposed within the personal digital assistant (element 10).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 2 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Trane (USPN 6,221,927) in view of Silverbrook (USPN 5,815,179).

Trane discloses a hand held personal digital assistant with a printer means includes an ink jet print head (Column 7: line 61-62).

However, Trane fails to teach a monolithic pagewidth printhead.

Silverbrook teaches monolithic pagewidth printhead (Column 5: line 45-60).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the monolithic pagewidth printhead as taught by Silverbrook. The motivation of doing so is to save power requirement and low cost.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 5-9 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 2853

Claims 5-9 are allowable over prior art of record because at least prior art have not been found to anticipate or teach a portion of the printer means is disposed in the hinge joint.
